On the home page, click on the square icon of the MOOC that you are interested in.

After clicking, you will be taken to a course page. You can also use the MOOCs tab to select the MOOC that you want to learn more about from the dropdown menu.

On the right-hand side of each course page, there is a dark gray sidebar box. Click sign up for this MOOC at the top of the sidebar, or click the link to “Enroll in this MOOC here.”

A separate tab will open to take you to UW-Madison’s Coursera page for the MOOC you selected. Coursera is an educational company that “hosts” all of the content for UW’s MOOCs. You will need to register through Coursera to participate in the MOOC.

On the Coursera page, there is a blue bar on the right side of the page that says “Join for Free.” Click the blue bar.
You will be prompted to provide your full name and an email address and to create a password that you will use to access the MOOCs in the future.

Then click the blue Sign Up bar.

A confirmation box should appear confirming your enrollment in the MOOC you have selected.

Once you have created an account with Coursera, you can use this account to participate in multiple MOOCs.

Coursera will send you a confirmation email, and you will need to confirm your email address.

The confirmation email will look something like this:

After signing up through Coursera, you will receive emails pertaining to the MOOCs you have enrolled in, with MOOC updates, syllabus information and links to log in to the MOOC.

These emails will be sent from Coursera to the email address you provided to create an account and may look something like this.
